TOWN LOCATED ON CRATER OF EXTINCT VOLCANO DESTROYED BY ERUPTION AND ALL LOST

Not Earthquake Or Mountain Slide that Killed Inhabitants of Karatagh, it is Believed

Berlin, Oct. 31.—A volcanic eruption, not an earthquake or mountain slide, annihilated Karatagh, Turkistan, and wiped out practically its entire population, according to advices from towns a hundred miles from Karatagh. The town stood over the crater of an extinct volcano, which, when the volcano broke loose, entirely destroyed it. It is said corpses were consumed, millions of tons of earth and rocks having been hurled into the air by the volcano.

It is generally believed that 15,000 given as the killed is exaggerated.

HITCHCOCK RUNS FROM CHARGE OF ABUSING GIRLS

New York, Oct. 31.—The police as yet have not found Raymond Hitchcock, the actor, who was indicted for being charged with a series of crimes in the alleged mistreatment of young girls. He disappeared yesterday. Flora Zabelle, his wife, is ignorant of his whereabouts. Hitchcock's understudy played in the matinee and night performances yesterday.

Colored Teachers' Association.
Last Saturday seven of the county teachers, thirteen of the city teachers and three ex-teachers met at the colored Methodist church, the occasion being the County Teachers' association. An interesting and profitable program was rendered. The next meeting will be held at High Point the third Saturday in November.

Will Bring Body Here.
Positive identification of the negro in Keokuk, Iowa, who killed himself in jail, as Levi James, of Paducah, called a brother of the dead prisoner away yesterday to bring the body home. James' father works on the steamer Dick Fowler and when news reached the city of his son's suicide, wrote for more definite information before sending for the body.

Hager at Smithland.
Smithland, Oct. 31. (Special).—Hager was here yesterday afternoon, and addressed a very small crowd. He confined himself to the remark he has made throughout his campaign, and was woefully dark on the subject of the tobacco trust's contribution to the Democratic campaign fund, a subject the local people should have liked to have been enlightened upon.

Ute Indians Are Quiet.
Washington, Oct. 31.—The Ute Indians, who have been raising a disturbance in the Cheyenne reservation in South Dakota, are now quiescent, according to a telegram to the war department, today from Capt. Johnson of the Tenth cavalry, who was sent to appease them. He is to have a conference today with the head men.

BROTHER SLAYS BROTHER WHO ABUSED FATHER.
Evansville, Ind., Oct. 31.—At Tell City, Ind., tonight Charles Hughes shot and killed his brother, Mortimer Hughes, a painter, aged 26 years. Mortimer was intoxicated, it is said, and was abusing his aged father, Captain Edward G. Hughes, when Charles rushed in with his gun and fired. Charles Hughes surrendered to the officials.

DIES AT STATION

Mayfield, Oct. 31.—(Special).—Mr. Samuel Baugherty, a prominent Mayfield citizen, and a traveling representative for the National Clothing company, died this morning in the station here, as he was being taken home from the west, where he has been on a business trip through his territory. Mr. Baugherty left here three weeks ago, apparently in good health, but Bright's disease developed a few days after he left and his condition was at once serious. No arrangements have been made for the funeral, but it will be some time to-morrow.

A frame dwelling belonging to O. W. Hickory, of Hickory Grove, was

Mr. Bryant Denies That He Made Statement Credited To Him By News-Democrat in Last Evening's Paper

The latest campaign lie is being promulgated to the effect that Thos. B. Harrison, Democratic nominee for mayor of Paducah, had promised Messrs. Englert & Bryant, the second street grocers, that if this firm would support him for mayor he (Harrison), if elected, would influence the city's patronage to them. Without making inquiry of Mr. Harrison a representative of the News-Democrat asked Mr. Bryant if the statement was true. Mr. Bryant's reply was that this was a base fabrication in its entirety, and that Mr. Harrison did not, nor did anyone for him, ever directly or indirectly intimate such a proposition to his firm. In fact nothing could have occurred which could have given the least semblance of an excuse for such report. Statements of this nature will doubtless come thick and fast during the closing days of the campaign, and it will be the endeavor of this paper to fall as many of them as discovered as soon as they are given publicity.—News-Democrat.

This Tells Who Made Proposition.

It was with difficulty Mr. Will Englert was induced to make the statement concerning the episode, which follows. Englert & Bryant Democrats and supported Harrison in the primary, but they told a few friends confidentially about it and the facts leaked out. They were called on by numerous people, and The Sun made several attempts to induce them to talk for publication. They persistently refused, because they did not wish to engage in a political controversy. They are reputable business men; they stand in the community personally and in a business way, and regretted they had ever mentioned the incident to any one, as they had declined to even consider such a proposition for their support.

ANOTHER OFFICER TO ASSIST BLAKE IN RECRUITING

The number of recruits received at the local station of late has grown so large that an assistant has been sent here to aid Sergeant Blake, who is in charge. The new man is Corporal George W. Putney and he entered upon his duties this morning. Captain William Reed, who is in charge of the recruiting service in this district, will be here this afternoon to enlist four men who have been accepted for the service and they will be sent to Jefferson barracks, Mo., to be assigned to the different parts of the service.

THE REGISTRATION

A total of 115 voters were registered Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the county clerk's office, of which 72 were Democrats, 42 Republicans and one Independent.

MR HALEY'S PRIZES

A letter, received by a friend in Paducah from Mr. E. H. Haley, Murray horseman, who is exhibiting his string of thoroughbreds at the Texas state fair and horse show at Dallas, Tex., states that he has captured a number of prizes with his stock. Besides the two fine horses, Barefield and Surrey, which he exhibited here at the late show, Mr. Haley carried several horses with him to Texas that he recently purchased in the Blue Grass.

The election of a competent city prosecuting attorney is next in importance to that of mayor, and the voters should not forget this. The record of the present incumbent, Tom Harrison, Democratic nominee for mayor, shows how the duties of the office are neglected. On important occasions the city has had to seek outside assistance to handle its cases, as the Boyle case, now in the court illustrates. The Republican nominee for city attorney is Arthur Martin, a young man of marked talent, who has achieved a substantial reputation at the local bar. Mr. Martin promises to see that the laws on the books are enforced, or know why, and that there will be no compromise with lawlessness in any form.

However, the News-Democrat's statement last night, purporting to be an interview with Mr. Bryant, put them in such an attitude that they are forced now to tell the facts, so that there can be no more quibbling and misrepresentation as to what actually did occur. Mr. Englert said: "A friend of Mr. Harrison said that for the vote and influence of our firm (Englert & Bryant) he would give us a signed contract as agreement to throw to us the entire city business in our line. I said that would be treating the others unfair. He then stated that he would give us three-fourths of it, and added that any agreement or contract he might make would be backed up and made good by Harrison. I gave him no satisfaction or acceptance of his offer, and he made a call on me at our store later and for the second time put the proposition."

BUILDERS PLAN AN ASSOCIATION ALONG NEW LINES

Building contractors in Paducah will organize into sub-associations and business in each association, which cannot be amicably settled in the lower body, will be taken to the Builders' association, the supreme body, for settlement. In short, the builders will organize just like local unions. This is the result of a decision of the committee on by-laws, which will report Saturday night.

The Builders' association will meet Saturday night for the first time in its new quarters, 118½ South Fourth street. The committee on by-laws has been at work for several weeks, and will report by-laws in full.

LOVE KILLS HER

West Point, Ky., Oct. 31. (Special).—Miss Dinah Dandy, aged 18, of Stephensport, was found unconscious in her room at Williams hotel here. She shot herself with a double barrel shotgun and will die. The cause is not known, but is supposed to be a love affair.

TRIMBLE STREET JOINS

The fourth quarterly conference of the Trimble Street Methodist church was held last evening by the presiding elder, the Rev. J. W. Blackard. The reports showed a net increase in membership during the year of 40 and the church's financial condition to be in fine shape. It was agreed by the church to join with the Broadway Methodist church in extending an invitation to the Memphis conference to meet in Paducah in 1908. The following were elected members of the official board for 1908: C. W. Morrison, Benjamin J. Billings, B. T. Davis, Silas Mitchell, Jr., J. T. Powell, W. L. Puckett, B. Wilkins, H. L. Wallace, J. H. Gentry, David Brockman, T. H. Bridges, Frank Moore and C. C. Duvall. Mr. Billings was named as the recording steward, and Mr. Morrison district steward. Mr. John B. Davis was re-elected superintendent of the Sunday school.

SENATOR ROBT. M. LAFOLLETTE

Madison, Wis., Oct. 31.—The La Follette boom for the Republican nomination for the presidency was formally launched at a conference of fifty prominent Republicans of the state here today. This committee elected an executive committee of nine members which will have active management of the campaign, both in Wisconsin and in other states.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—Definite steps may be taken by tonight formally to end the telegraphers' strike. GALVESTON STORM

Houston, Oct. 31.—Galveston was again ravaged by a storm that assumed cyclonic proportions Tuesday night. John L. Sullivan, who was there, summed up the matter by saying, he thought the city had been blown to hell. Rain fell Monday afternoon, and by dusk torrents increased in power and wind in velocity. During the night Mallory docks were greatly injured and nearly all the sheds blown down. Many buildings were unroofed and plate glass windows smashed, and water ran through the streets in torrents. The sea wall held back the gulf. Telephones are out of commission, and there was no communication except by train. This service was delayed. In Houston rain fell in torrents, stopping the cars, electric lights and

Big Meeting of Growers Being Held at Shelbyville to Discuss Situation in Two States

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 31.—(Special).—A meeting of the peaceful army was held in this city last night. A decision was reached to make another tour of Daviess county. It is reported that those growers, who do not want to pool their tobacco, will swear out peace warrants in case any intimidation is threatened. The army is proceeding through McLean county with some success.

Finally Pooled Crop.
Milton, Ky., Oct. 31.—(Special).—John Stockdale, a farmer, attempted to deliver tobacco to a Madison firm, but neighbors forced him to stop. He finally pooled his crop.

Tobacco Growers Meet.
Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 31.—(Special).—More than 5,000 tobacco growers from all parts of Kentucky and Tennessee were here today at the meeting of the National Tobacco Growers' association and the greatest enthusiasm was manifested by the large crowd. The old Shelbyville fair grounds was the scene of the meeting and in addition to the business of the day there was a grand barbecue with the feast prepared by Gus Jaubert, the master of his profession.

One of the chief features considered at the meeting was the question of whether the burley crop should be dispensed with in 1908 and a particular stress was laid upon that point. Before the meeting it was arranged that all of those in attendance who favored a crop in 1908 should wear a blue badge while all who opposed a crop in 1908 and who were against lawlessness in any form should wear the white badge. It is needless to say the white badge is flourishing in all its glory, while the blue badge is not to be seen. The action of the executive committee of the Burley Tobacco Growers' association at Winchester last night in approving the plans for doing away with the 1908 crop was up for ratification and the situation in the dark belt as well received a large amount of attention, the growers from that section of the state reporting that the conditions were favorable to their organization and that even the stemming district has about been brought into the fold.

In addition to business of a regular order a number of speeches were made by orators of exceptional ability.

Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 31.—(Special).—At the national tobacco growers' meeting today report of the secretary showed 600,000,000 pounds of tobacco of all kinds pledged by all associations, leaving only 200,000,000 unpledged in the entire country.

Shelbyville, Ky., Oct. 31. (Special).—The National Tobacco Growers adopted a resolution, endorsing the action of the burley men to eliminate the crop of 1908. The action will strengthen the Green river delegates in a plan to follow the same proceeding and may result in all branches doing likewise. The convention also denied the right of the trust to go into the fields and buy, and to control prices. They endorsed C. M. Barnett, president of the Society of Equity, and pledged their support.

SOME STATEMENTS REGARDING NEW THEORY

Followers of Cooper and His Novel Ideas Give Reason for Their Belief in Him.

With a theory that human health is dependent on the stomach and with a medicine which he says proves this theory, L. T. Cooper, a comparatively young man, has built up an immense following during the past year.

Cooper has visited most of the leading cities of the country, and in each city has aroused a storm of discussion about his beliefs and his medicines. Wherever he has gone, people have called upon him by tens of thousands, and his preparation has sold in immense quantities.

The sale of this medicine has now spread over the entire country, and is growing enormously each day. In view of this, the following statements from two of the great number of followers which he now has, are of general interest.

Mrs. Agnes Vigenhouser, of 942 St. Louis avenue, Chicago, has the following to say on the subject of the Cooper preparations: "For more than ten years I was broken down in health. I could not sleep and I was very nervous. Gradually I began to lose my memory, until I could not remember things from one day to another. I had severe pains and cramps in my body, and I would at times see dark spots before my eyes. I was unable to do any work whatever, as my strength was failing. I had no appetite, nor could I take any medicine. "I had about given up hope of ever being well again when I read of Mr. Cooper's remedies. I decided to give them a trial, and I began to feel better at once. After taking the medicine for two weeks I can say that I am a new woman. I can eat with enjoyment, the pains in my body have left me, and I am stronger than I have been for years.

"I cannot say enough for Mr. Cooper's remedies. They are wonderful, for they have done everything claimed for them in my case."

Another statement by Mr. W. B. Stewart, 109 W. Madison St., Chicago, is as follows: "I have had stomach trouble for years, and any one who is afflicted this way knows what an awful distressed feeling it causes. Many a time I have felt that I would give most any price to be cured. It was by accident that I heard of this man Cooper's remedies. I immediately wrote my mind to buy a treatment from him. I used it for about two weeks, and it is impossible to tell how much good it has done me. I feel altogether different. I have more life and energy than I have had for years. This medicine certainly does stimulate and strengthen the whole system. Tired feeling and weak condition of the stomach has entirely passed away. I feel well again."

We sell Cooper's celebrated medicines which have made this wonderful record in all parts of the country. W. B. McPherson.

Land Life Preserver.

A motorist was showing off his car to an old sea captain, whose knowledge of recent developments on terra firma is somewhat hazy.

"How fast can she travel?" asked the captain.

"Fifty miles an hour."

"Off the wind?"

"Either off or on," said the owner. The old sea dog grunted dubiously.

"Is that yer wheel?" he inquired.

"Yes."

"Then where's yer compass?"

"Don't use one."

"Oh! She don't work like a boat, then?"

"Quite different."

Again the captain grunted as his eye wandered over the snorting contraption, until he caught sight of the extra tire fastened on behind, when he demanded triumphantly:

"Now, if she ain't like a boat, why in the name of Davy Jones do yer carry that life preserver?"—Tie Bits.

WHAT CAUSES DANDRUFF.

Greatest European Authority on Skin Diseases, Says It's a Germ.

The old idea that dandruff is scales of skin thrown off, through a feverish condition of the scalp is exploded. Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says dandruff is a germ disease. The germ burrows under the scalp, throwing up little scales of skin thrown off, through a talley of the hair at the root. The only hair preparation that kills dandruff germs is Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." Not only cures dandruff, but stops falling hair and permits a luxuriant growth. Delightful hair dressing. Sold by leading druggists. INDIANS HAVE STRONGEST TEAM

No Eleven in East Capable of Beating Carlisle

Football Fans Looking Forward to Redskins' Games With Minnesota at Chicago.

SLEMP OF THE BIG TEAMS.

New York, Oct. 31.—To all appearances Carlisle will be proclaimed champion of the football season of 1907. At any rate there is no team in the east today capable of beating Glen Warner's Indian braves, and as for the west, they are so fast that lumberjacks, beefy Minnesotans, or even the Wizard Stags pupils of the Midway, will be unable to cope with the Redskins.

Carlisle has a wonderful team. The Indians present the new game in all its magnificence, and yet the new game presents to the spectator the possibility of witnessing football as much as it does to the officials.

The game between Carlisle and Pennsylvania Saturday demonstrated two facts—the one that the Indians are wonderfully fast, and the other that they are very, very much addicted to playing foul football—holding and slugging. If they carry the latter tactics as far as Minneapolis, Williams' Gophers will teach the Redskins a few points at this game.

From a football standpoint Pennsylvania was woefully outclassed Saturday. Carlisle played around, between and under the Red and Blue men as if they were a lot of high school boys. The Indians boxed the Penns ends easily; worked the forward pass many times, on one occasion for forty yards; and last, but not least, showed to America that, besides Mr. Pleasant, there are three other men on the team who can send the oval from placement equally as well as Mr. Pleasant.

The victory of Carlisle will most likely be taken in this light, namely: That the Red and Blue team has gone to pieces, and that the chances of Michigan are increased an hundredfold. But this is wrong. Once every season the Philadelphia team makes a slump, and it comes generally about the middle of the season. Recovery then takes place, and the team closes the season like a whirlwind. Whether or not this will hold true once more remains to be seen. Penn's ambition lays upon the result of the fight to be waged on Ferry Field, Ann Arbor, Mich., on the afternoon of November 19. If the Quakers are defeated they will sink into the second class as a college aggregation, and there is no doubt in the least that they will make a tremendous endeavor to recover that form displayed in the Penns-Michigan game last year.

In fact, the whole football situation is in a bad mix-up in the east. Tradition has been swept aside as a Brooklyn trolley car would a child. Princeton has gone down to defeat; Yale has been tied; Harvard's scalp saved by four points; Georgetown overwhelmingly defeated by Fordham—and so the story goes on all through the east. And, surmounting all these derelicts, is the red man of North America—the Indians.

Saturday afternoon Carlisle and Princeton mix on the historic polo grounds. With the ghosts of McGraw and Frank Chance flitting around the batters' box, the Tigers of old Nassau and the crafty red man will undertake the task of annihilating one another. It won't be necessary to call out the New York police reserves to start the game, but, rather, the militia to separate the eleven pairs. Princeton has a woefully weak team this year. Old Nassau needs all the Poes, the Dewitts, and men who have made her football history to save her from defeat—all the feline sagacity of the tiger. But on paper it appears as if the Indians will take back to Carlisle about three or four skins.

Considering the surprises of the present season, one is led to ask: Have the big teams of the east begun to deteriorate in their work? Some might answer in the affirmative, but such is not the case. The surprises only mean that the new rules have given the smaller colleges, the lighter teams, an opportunity to meet their opponents on a more equal basis. Heavy and continual line plunging is about over; the big fellow has to keep his eyes open for forward passes, kicks from placement and tricks. The tasks of the ends have been increased 100 per cent., and the need of fleetness and less heavier men on a team is necessary.

The boys of Villa Nova, who met Yale Saturday, declare the Blue has a weak team. Yale beat Villa Nova 42 to 0. Yale also humbled her sturdy little opponent, Holy Cross, 39 to 0, earlier in the season, and has had no real hard games, outside of that at West Point, to bring out her best men. But West Point has defeated Yale, and yet the Blue has defeated Harvard the same year. What Yale will really develop is a question. It is a cinch that the Blue can't beat Carlisle, nor can Harvard, for neither the Blue nor Crimson ever had a team that could show the speed Carlisle did last Saturday. In fact, unless Princeton or others of the big teams which are to play Carlisle recover from the present slump, nothing can stay the rush of Carlisle.

The west is particularly interested in the Redskins this season, for the Indians meet both Minnesota and Chicago. As Penns has gone down to defeat, their game with Michigan passes into a haze when compared with the importance of the Carlisle-Chicago and Carlisle-Minnesota games. Stagg has a fairly good team, but the Maroons will never be able to defeat the Indians. Warner has three men who can surpass the best Maroon kicker in ability; Warner has a team that works like that wonderful machine of Yost's of 1904; Warner has a team that knows the new game apparently better than any team in the country, and whose men can hurl the ball from thirty to forty yards on a throw. To defeat Carlisle Stagg needs two Eckersalls, and so does Minnesota. It will take a team like the 1903 Gopher aggregation to worry Carlisle, and, at that, the Gophers would have to keep moving.

In a word, there does not seem to be a team in the country at this time capable of beating Carlisle.

HONOR MISS GOULD.

Jacksies of the Atlantic Fleet to Present Her With Loving Cup.

New York, Oct. 30.—The enlisted men of the Atlantic fleet are now raising the sum of $2,500 with which to purchase a loving cup for Miss Helen Miller Gould in appreciation of the work she has done for the benefit of the blue jackets of the navy. It is said a handsome cup two feet in height has been selected from Tiffany's studios and that it will be presented either on November 20 or December 3 in Carnegie hall.

The speech of presentation will be made by a blue jacket to be selected from among the assembled crews. All the heads of the navy and government departments and commanding officers of the fleet have been invited to attend. A special invitation is to be sent to Mark Twain, the old Mississippi pilot, to be present and spin a few fresh water yarns to the sailors and their visitors.

Special attention is to be devoted to Harrison college at Abbeville, S. C., which was endowed by the late S. P. Harrison, of Allegheny. They will also visit Ulatka, Fla., and other towns where schools for negroes are maintained.

THEATRICAL NOTES

That Good Show. Laugh long and loud, then laugh some more, is what you do when he sees Perce R. Benton's latest triumph "A Cowboy's Girl," a play written on new lines and said to be one of the most artistic and realistic of modern western productions. It is full of song and story of the new southwest, told in the most captivating manner and augmented with the latest ideas in electrical effects.

A Notable Attraction.

The first Brady play. That is what strikes the regular theater goer when he hears of the coming of Wilton Lackaye in "The Bondman." It is one of the season's big attractions. Cities the size of Paducah do not witness productions of the sumptuousness, quality and character of "The Bondman" often enough in a season to tire of them. It is not often that a newspaper takes upon itself the responsibility of recommending a play, deeming it sufficient to give the press agent more than usual scope, in which to describe his attraction. But Wilton Lackaye in "The Bondman" is the kind of show theater patrons would see patronized liberally for the sake of the effect on the producing managers. We want more of them. Mr. Lackaye is the foremost character actor in America. He originated "Svengali" in the first notable production of Triby. He starred in "The Pit," and has half dozen notable triumphs to his credit. "The Bondman," dramatized from Hall Caine's novel of that name, ran two seasons in London. Critics all over this country praise the production highly, especially Mr. Lackaye's rendition of the principal character. The play will be here Saturday matinee and night. By the way, please pronounce it Lack-I, with the accent on the last syllable.

BAILEY SUPPORTER IS DISABLED IN DALLAS.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 30.—Judge William Masterson, of Houston, a staunch supporter and friend of United States Senator Joseph W. Bailey, was arrested this morning and a revolver taken from his overcoat pocket. Judge Masterson was pointed out to a policeman by Will Crawford, a young attorney, and nephew of Col. W. L. Crawford, who has greatly incensed the Bailey following by the wording of a circular which he has issued and distributed.

Further trouble is expected, and Bailey's friends declare publicly that they are ready for it. Senator Bailey joined Judge Masterson on the street before the policeman had walked more than half a block with him, and accompanied the two to the office of the sheriff, where Masterson made bond.

Cool-headed and conservative men on both sides are exercising every possible precaution to ward off a tragic climax, which seems imminent. Bailey left Dallas for his home at Gainesville this afternoon.

FORTUNE AT STAKE.

Woman Racing Against Death From Colorado to Philadelphia.

Colorado Springs, Col., Oct. 30.—A fortune is at stake in a race against death which Mrs. L. H. Willis, wife of an El Paso county man, is making in the hope of reaching her father's bedside at Philadelphia before he breathes his last. The aged man's reason has been dethroned, and physicians are holding out the hope that the sight of his daughter may temporarily restore it, giving him time to make a division of his property.

The dying man is H. N. Harris, a wealthy man. Years ago, in a fight with a negro in South Carolina, he received a blow on the head which affected his mind, and now, as death is approaching, he has sunk into a stupor and has not recognized those at his bedside. Mrs. Willis is his favorite heir and is rushing as fast as steam will carry her in an effort to gladden her father's last moments.

MIGHTY COLD AT AN ALTITUDE
OF 46,680 FEET.Balloon With Thermometer Went Up
There and Recorded Temperature.

That a balloon has reached a height of 46,680 feet, and there recorded a temperature of 111 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, was one of the statements made by Prof. A. Lawrence Rotch, of the Blue Hill observatory, Boston, at the aeronautical congress today. Prof. Rotch told of his long series of experiments with miniature balloons for the purpose of testing the currents and temperatures at high altitudes.

The balloons carrying special instruments for recording the distance traveled, the altitude and temperature. When at a great height the balloon explodes, and the parachute, carrying the instruments and records, floats down to earth. Practically all of the temperature balloons have been sent up from St. Louis. The longest flight was 155 miles.

Prof. Rotch said that his experiments showed that at eight miles from the earth the temperature, which had been falling rapidly, began suddenly to rise again. Similar warm strata had also been discovered over Europe, he said.

The United States weather bureau is to continue the experiments throughout the country, to investigate the action of storm areas and cold waves.

Oscar Eklund, winner of the recent international race, today received a message from Emperor William congratulating him on the victory.

RUSH AT SHERIFF'S OFFICE TO PAY TAXES.

Sheriff John Ogilvie kept his office open last night for the accommodation of taxpayers and experienced a brisk rush. He will keep open again tonight. The penalty goes on November 1st on all taxes unpaid, and on the 15th of November the list of delinquents will be turned over to the county clerk to issue warrants for collection of back taxes. The sheriff has collected $100,000, and only about $25,000 remain to be collected.

Immigrants.

Immigrants are still pouring into the country as if "unexampled prosperity" were to become even more unexampled. September's arrival numbered 98,694, compared with 95,341 in the month last year. Some of these people may be hunting for passages back home ere long, as business reaction circles out from the financial centers over the country. The demand for labor cannot, of course, continue unlimited when the supply of uninvested capital is so restricted as at present. Evidently, however, the view prevails in Greece that the average American will economize in shoe shining last of all; for the feature of present immigration is the uncommonly large number coming in from that classic land. Immigration from Greece last month numbered 4,176, against 2,430 in the same time last year.—Springfield Republican.

Small Fire in Engine Room.

The Nos. 1, 2 and 4 fire companies were called to the plant of the West Kentucky Coal company, Second and Ohio streets, last night at 11 o'clock. Fire originating from the stove was discovered in the engine room but firemen extinguished the blaze before it had done much damage. Total damage will amount to less than $100, it is estimated, fully covered by insurance.

RAILROAD NOTES

There is contention as to which division of the Illinois Central captured first prize for the best mile of track on the system, and Peoria division officials are either trying to play a joke at the expense of Supt. A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division, or else the popular official failed to take first prize this time.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Egan received a telegram from Peoria division officials saying that the Peoria division had captured first prize for the best mile of track over the Louisville division by one-half per cent. The only division standing any show against the latter division is the Peoria division, which captured first prize one year after the Louisville division had taken it for several years.

Yesterday it was tipped that Mr. Egan's division had taken first prize, but no official announcement will be made of the successful division until inspectors get back to Chicago and present a formal report of grades.

The telegram received yesterday in Superintendent Egan's office created quite a stir among division officials who at ready felt confident of victory.

Mechanics in Paducah Illinois Central shops take the cut in working hours philosophically, and little complaint is heard. The machine shops have been on a nine-hour work day and the cut lopped off one hour. The wood working shops have been on a ten hour day and will be reduced to nine hours. However, in midwinter the woodworking shop is cut still more, on account of early dusk. Mechanics are thankful that no cut in forces is to be made, having enjoyed a full winter force for two years with out the interruption of a cut.

Mr. Fred Flanagan, the popular Illinois Central machinist, whose home is in Omaha, Neb., is able to be at work again, but is still hurt and sore from his 'possum' hunt of two nights ago. Flanagan had never been 'possum hunting' before, and his friends took advantage of his ignorance and nearly walked him to death. It is declared that in one mile of fence he climbed over 20 times, and it was not until he was completely fagged out that he discovered he had been scaling the same fence. Six 'possums' allayed soreness a little, but Flanagan declares he wants no more 'possum' hunts in his.

Traveling Engineer Lloyd Grimes, of the Tennessee division of the Illinois Central, arrived from Fulton this morning.

ber 1, the nine-hour work day will go into effect in Paducah Illinois Central shops, which will mean many hundred dollars less wages to employees. The reduction in working hours was predicted in The Sun two weeks ago. This affects all shops but not the clerical forces.

Minor Accidents.

A. C. Phelps, 26 years old, a well known Illinois Central car repairer, let a brake hanger fall on his right hand and crushed his finger.

Arthur White, colored, a laborer at the coal hoists in Paducah Illinois Central shop yards, stepped on a lump of coal and was thrown to the ground, sustaining severe bruises.

Passing of a Famous Bridge.

At last the old bridge over the Golden Horn at Constantinople is about to be done away with and replaced by a new structure. An amusing tale is told in connection with the efforts of an American firm to secure the order. With a view of impressing the sultan with the quality of its work an elaborate painting was prepared for presentation to his majesty showing the bridge as it would appear during a storm which would have done credit to the Atlantic. However, the firm was informed that the sultan would be so horrified by this view that it at once prepared a picture showing the bridge as it would appear on a beautiful summer's day. Even this, however, Reuter says, failed to effect its purpose.

The Society for the Protection of Ancient Buildings has been making strenuous protests of late against the manner in which Exeter Cathedral is being restored, more especially with reference to the sculpture, which it is declared has been obliterated without reason.

True respect for the great body of citizenship united under the name democracy, causes us to hesitate to refer to the state machine as the democratic party.

It does seem odd, doesn't it, to expect men to represent us in congress and then employ a "people's lobby" to watch them? Whom shall we get to watch the lobby?

While the local organ is abusing democrats, who went to the primary to save their party, and then find themselves unable conscientiously to support the policies represented, it might turn its attention to some causes right in its own organization. How about an organization that has devoted itself to the domination of the state machine? Clem Whittemore is here primarily to encompass the election of Eugene C. Young to the legislature, but the local machine leaders thought, in a way rightly, that any manipulation of the primary would be to the advantage of Graves who will militate to the advantage of the whole ticket. How about some of them have disinterestedly a dicker on, and odd jobs for the benefit of the by the election of A. L. Harper, while they in turn are throwing things Clem's way. Have you observed how the boosting has all been for Graves and Harper, with a little defense now and then for Tom Harrison?

INSULTING VETERANS.

So long as a Confederate veteran supports the Democratic ticket he is to be revered annually; but when he chooses to vote otherwise, he is cursed and reviled and the wish is expressed that he may speedily die. When an administration paper eulogizes a hero of the lost cause, do not be deceived. It is not because he was loyal and brave and self-sacrificing in the hour when sacrifice was demanded. It is not because he was a Confederate soldier. It is because he faithfully lines up for the Democratic ticket. The Kentucky State Journal brands this blasphemous, as well as insulting, abuse at one, who has occupied the highest office in Kentucky: "Why God, in his infinite mercy, has spared old Simon Bolivar Buckner to linger superfluously so long upon the stage to abuse his betters and mock the party which took him up after the war and to an extent rehabilitated him after his disastrous and lamentable military failure. He alone knows, for no mortal mind can see the slightest reason for his continued existence. Merciful Providence ought to remove him from the sphere of existence, which he no longer brightens or beautifies. Death should, like we try to do, throw the mantle of charity over the poor old man, by ceasing to let him make a fool of himself. Governor Buckner can only escape complete annihilation of honor and reputation by an immediate call to join his fathers."—Kentucky State Journal.

That's it. Strip off the Cross of Honor. You old veterans line up. All your heroism for the lost cause, all your bravery in battle, your suffering on the march, your wounds and heartaches count for nothing, now, if you don't line up for the scalawags, who have stolen the Democratic party in Kentucky. General Buckner said the Confederate soldiers thought for themselves when they entered the service, he believes them still capable of choosing for themselves politically.

If the Democratic machine challenges were sincere, why didn't they challenge those voters on whom notice was served and who answered to their names? When a man appeared at the hearing, they asked the judge to dismiss the case; but the cost of serving the summons has to be borne by the taxpayers just the same.

HAGER FAILS IN DUTY.

Oh, how our idol has fallen! Oh, how our carefully elaborated irony has lost its sting! Hager—the magnanimous Hager—the great hearted Hager, who gave Billy Semontin, clerk of Jefferson county, half a year to make good in and then, tried to shield him from the exposure of his defalcations—has been lax in a "duty." He has not registered. It looks as though he may lose his vote.

Following a paragraph in the Courier-Journal, written by Arch Dunlap, who is traveling with Hager, The Sun said a week ago: "State Auditor S. W. Hager, Democratic candidate for governor, did not register and will not get to vote this fall."

Perhaps, having overlooked our source of information, the News-Democrat, with arch sarcasm, explained in detail to us that there are three supplemental registration days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, on which Mr. Hager could appear before the county clerk of his county and swear that he was absent on registration days, and receive his certificate. We knew this, of course, but we also knew, as the News-Democrat should, that Mr. Hager, in his eagerness for the office, had so arranged his itinerary that he was to be in Murray, Monday, Benton, Tuesday, and Smithland, Wednesday; not taking from his tour the two or three days necessary to go to his home and return to western Kentucky. He was too bent on telling other Democrats their duty to register and vote, or he saw too plainly that something is wrong in the Gibraltar. At any rate, he thought it not worth his while to go home to register.

And we recall the stinging rebuke, which the News-Democrat administered to us in the closing words of that editorial: "If Mr. Hager in prosecuting his canvass was away from home and did not register as the Sun says, he will no doubt do so on one of the days named, for he is too good a Democrat to either fail in this duty or to lose his vote for even the good reason of being out in the field for the ticket heads. Of this fact the Sun can rest assured."

We knew all the time that Mr. Hager wasn't too good a Democrat either to fail in this duty or lose his vote; but we just put away that editorial of our contemporary until today and waited.

If the local Democrat machine is sincere in its challenge of votes, why do not the deputies serving notices, accept the offer of E. E. Bell to accompany them and show them the voters? Mr. Bell said he could find any of the voters, on whose summons were written the words "not found," and find them at the addresses given on the registration books. He offered to go along with the deputies, but they ignored his offer.

CHAPTER IV.

A Change of Name.

"Here's your way, sir," said the policeman, turning to old City Hall, as it was even then known, and leading me to one of the inner rooms of the labyrinth of offices.

The policeman opened an office door, saluted, and motioned me to enter.

"Detective Coogan," he said, "here's your man."

Detective Coogan, from behind his desk, nodded with the careless dignity of official position.

"Glad to see you, Mr. Wilton," he said affably.

If I betrayed surprise at being called by Henry's name, Detective Coogan did not notice it. But I hastened to disclaim the dangerous distinction.

"I am not Wilton," I declared. "My name is Dudley—Giles Dudley."

At this announcement Detective Coogan turned to the policeman.

"Just step into Morris' room, Carson, and tell him I'm going up to the morgue."

"Now," he continued, as the policeman closed the door behind him, "this won't do, Wilton. We've had to overlook a good deal, of course, but you needn't think you can play us for suckers all the time."

"But I tell you I'm not—" I began, when he interrupted me.

"You can't make that go here," he said contemptuously. "And I'll tell you what, Wilton, I shall have to take you into custody if you don't come down straight to business. We don't want to chip in on the old man's play, of course, especially as we don't know what his game is."

Detective Coogan appeared to regret this admission that he was not omniscient, and went on hastily: "You know as well as we do that we don't want any fight with him. But I'll tell you right now that if you force a fight, we'll make it so warm for him that he'll have to throw you overboard to lighten ship."

Here was a fine prospect conveyed by Detective Coogan's picturesque confusion of metaphors. If I persisted in claiming my own name and person I was to be clapped into jail, and charged with Heaven-knows-what crimes. If I took my friend's name, I was to invite the career of adventure of which I had just had a taste. And while this was flashing through my mind, I wondered idly who the "old man" could be. The note I had received was certainly in a lady's hand. But if the lady was Henry's employer, it was evident that he had dealt with the police as the representative of a man of power.

My decision was of necessity promptly taken.

"Oh, well, if that's the way you look at it, Coogan," I said carelessly, "it's all right. I thought it was agreed that we weren't to know each other."

"This was a chance shot, but it hit."

"Yes, yes," said the detective, "I remember. But, you see, this is serious business. Here's a murder on our hands, and from all I can learn it's on account of your confounded schemes. We've got to know where we stand, or there will be the Old Nick to pay. The papers will get hold of it, and then—well, you remember that shake-up we had three years ago?"

Detective Coogan lost his listless air, and looked at me in astonishment.

"I don't see your game, Wilton," he said.

"I'm giving you the straight facts," I said sullenly, a little disturbed by his manner and tone.

"Well, in that case, I'd expect you to keep the straight facts to yourself, my boy."

It was my turn to be astonished.

"Well, that's my lookout," I said with assumed carelessness.

"I don't see through you," said the detective with some irritation. "If you're playing with me to stop this inquiry by dragging in—well, we needn't use names—you'll find yourself in the hottest water you ever struck."

"You can do as you please," I said coolly.

The detective ripped out an oath.

"If I knew you were lying, Wilton, I'd clap you in jail this minute."

"Well, if you want to take the risks—" I said smiling.

He looked at me for a full minute.

"Candidly, I don't, and you know it," he said. "But this is a stunner on me. What's your game, anyhow?"

I wished I knew.

"So accomplished a detective should not be at a loss to answer so simple a question."

"Well, there's only one course open, as I see," he said with a groan. "We've got to have a story ready for the papers and the coroner's jury."

This was a new suggestion for me and I was alarmed.

"You can just forget your little tale about the row in the alley," he continued. "There's nothing to show that it had anything to do with this man here. Maybe it didn't happen. Anyhow, just think it was a dream. This was a water-front row—tough saloon—killed and robbed by parties unknown. Maybe we'll have you before the coroner for the identification, but maybe it's better not."

I nodded assent. My mind was too numbed to suggest another course.

The gray dawn was breaking through the chill fog, and people were stirring in the streets as Detective Coogan led the way out of the morgue. As we parted he gave me a curious look.

"I suppose you know your own business, Wilton," he said, but I suspect you'd be a sight safer if I'd clap you in jail."

"But you forget the 'old man.' I returned. The name of that potent unknown seemed to be my only weapon in the contest with Detective Coogan, and I thought this a time to try its force.

"Not much, I don't!" said Coogan, visibly disturbed. "But if it comes to a choice, we'll have to risk a battle with him."

"Well, maybe we're wasting time over a trifle," said I, voicing my hope. "Perhaps your dead man belongs somewhere else."

"Come along to the morgue, then," said he.

"Where was he found?" I asked as we walked out of the City Hall.

"He was picked up at about three o'clock in the back room of the Hurricane Deck—the water-front saloon, you know—near the foot of Folsom Street."

Detective Coogan asked a number of questions as we walked, and in a few minutes we came to the undertaker's shop that served as the city morgue.

"Here it is," said Coogan, opening a door.

The low room was dark and chill and musty, but its details started forth from the obscurity as he turned up the lights.

Detective Coogan's words seemed to come from a great distance as he said: "Here, you see, he was stabbed. The knife went to the heart. Here he was hit with something heavy and blunt; but it had enough of an edge to cut the scalp and lay the cheek open. The skull is broken. See here—"

I summoned my resolution and looked.

Disfigured and ghastly as it was, I recognized it. It was the face of Henry Wilton.

The next I knew I was sitting on a bench, and the detective was holding a bottle to my lips.

"There, take another swallow," he said, not unkindly. "I didn't know you weren't used to it."

"Oh," I gasped, "I'm all right now."

"And I was able to look steadily at the gruesome surroundings and the dreadful burden on the slab."

"Is this the man?" asked the detective.

"Yes."

"His name?"

"Dudley—James Dudley." I was not quite willing to transfer the whole of my identity to the dead, and changed the Giles to James.

"Was he a relative?"

I shook my head, though I could not have said why I denied it. Then, in answer to the detective's question, I told the story of the scuffle in the alley, and of the events that followed.

"Did you see any of the men? To recognize them, I mean?"

I described the leader as well as I was able—the man with the face of the wolf that I had seen in the lantern-flash.

Detective Coogan lost his listless air, and looked at me in astonishment.

"I don't see your game, Wilton," he said.

"I'm giving you the straight facts," I said sullenly, a little disturbed by his manner and tone.

"Well, in that case, I'd expect you to keep the straight facts to yourself, my boy."

It was my turn to be astonished.

The Health in Winter.
The best way to keep in good health in the winter is to pay just a little attention to the body physically, and by proper attention to diet and nature's warnings, avoid sickness.

More and more each year the profession is getting away from the theory of always dosing for disease, as a cure and a preventive, and prescribing natural treatments. We are thus getting closer to nature, and nature, as a restorer of the spent vigor and health, is coming into its right and just recognition.

The bath as one of the aids to nature is now given its due credit and attention. The cold bath in the morning imparts vigor and starts the day off with a tonic effect.

One of, if not the greatest baths science has developed is the dry hot air treatment. In this the temperature can be run up to 300 degrees, but, by a process which gives a free circulation of air through the machine, the heat is never oppressive. This treatment opens thoroughly the pores of the most obstinate skin and puts it in good condition, and by the perspiration assists nature in eliminating the impurities from the system.

The after effects of the treatment is invigorating. Instead of being the least depressive, they are tonic, and for the tired-down, worn-out system, it is a wonderful rejuvenator. Especially is this so, when the treatment is followed by the osteopathic treatment.

I am giving these treatments with marked success, and shall be pleased to tell you how and why it is such in a few moments, as well as refer you to Paducah people who will personally attest to the merits of them.

PEOPLE AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Beautiful Wedding and Reception.

Beautiful in every detail of arrangement and impressive in its solemnization was the wedding of Miss Nell Holland and Mr. Paul Province last evening at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Eli G. Boone, 308 South Sixth street. The ceremony was witnessed by a limited number of special friends and relatives and took place at 8:30 o'clock. The reception hall, where the impressive words of the ceremony were pronounced, was in the bridal colors of white and green. An octagon end effectively arranged as a chancel where the bride and groom were especially beautiful with its adornments of trailing vines of southern smilax, palms and ferns on pedestals. The background was a tall pedestal with a five-pronged silver candelabrum. On either side were pedestals with gorgeous plants of the Japanese white chrysanthemums. The prayer cushion was of white and green. Verd brass lamps, electric lighted, with Roman shades, were hung amid the vines over the altar and between the Ionic columns that separate the hall from the library. The bride procession descended the stairway, which was a beautiful effect in the southern smilax almost concealing the balustrade. The ribbon bearers, little Misses Adine Corbett and Mary Terry Burnett, came first and formed the ribbon aisle from the stairway to the altar for the bride and bridegroom, who were preceded by little Susan Porter Sleeth, bearing the ring on a silver tray. The scene at the miniature chancel was charming in its simplicity and grace. The Rev. S. B. Moore, D. D., of the First Christian church, pronounced the ceremony, using an impressive ring service. For the processional Deal's orchestra rendered the Mendelssohn wedding march. "Call Me Thine Own" was played during the ceremony and "Lohengrin" at the close.

The bride, a gracious and graceful girl, looked especially charming in her wedding gown, a beautiful creation of imported hand-made lace over chiffon over silk, made with a bolero effect. She wore the bridal veil and her only jewel was a gift from the bridegroom, a heart of pearl and diamonds. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The two ribbon girls, of striking brunette type, wore pretty fingered frocks unrelieved by any touch of color. Little Susan Porter Sleeth was a vision of childish grace, in a dainty empire dress of wash chiffon over white baby ribbon completed the pleated and rows of lace were inlaid. A bertha of real lace and rosettes of violet baby ribbon completed the pretty costume, with white slippers and stockings.

The reception which followed the ceremony was thoroughly charming in all of its appointments. It was given by Mr. and Mrs. Boone in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Province, and to this a large number of invitations had been issued. The house, which has just been handsomely remodeled throughout was decorated with artistic taste by Brunson, the florist. The reception hall was a pretty mass of greenery with its profusion of southern smilax and ferns. The library was a scheme of yellow. Japanese chrysanthemums in pots and massed in vases were everywhere. Brass candelabra with shades of yellow lent a soft glow. The dining-room reproduced the bridal tones of white and green most effectively. White chryssanthemums, ferns and smilax adorned the handsome sideboard, which will greatly benefit their his-buffet and mantel. The bridal table was covered with a handsome lace cover. Ropes of smilax and tulle were laid over this, surrounding a mirror in the center on which was a tall crystal stand with the bride's cake. This was beautifully leed in large white chrysanthemums and green leaves and was the creation of an artist in that line, Mrs. M. G. Cope. At the four corners of the table were four silver candelsticks with green candles and shades. Cut glass compotes held the sticks of green and white minted confections. Opening off the dining-room is the rear hall, which was an especially pretty effect in pink. The punch table was arranged here in a bower of green vines. Festoons of pink tulle and ropes of smilax were laid over the table and surrounded the large punch bowl of cut glass. Tall crystal vases of pink carnations and ferns were at either end, and silver candlesticks with pink candles and shades made a pretty illumination.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Boone in the library were Mr. and Mrs. Province, and the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Holland. Mrs. Boone was very handsome in a striking gown of blue radium silk trimmed with Duchess lace and old orange. Mrs. Holland wore a pretty toilette of white crepe de chine.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells met the guests in the reception hall and invited them into the library. Standing in the octagon end of the hall were: Mr. and Mrs. James Utterback and Miss Anna Webb.

Inviting the guests from the library to the dining-room were: Miss Adah Brazelton and Mrs. Warwick M. Cowgill, of Lincoln, Neb. Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Reynolds received in the dining-room and were assisted by Misses Frances Terrell, Lillie May Winstead, Belle Cave and Ethel Brooks. The delightful salad course luncheon was served here.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Leech presided at the punch table. With them were Miss Mildred Terrell and Mr. Frank Boone. Mr. and Mrs. Hal Corbett were in the arched doorway between the reception and rear halls. In charge of the guest book. Some 250 guests were present. Mrs. Robert Orme, of Memphis, Tenn., and Mr. Joseph Boone, of Colorado Springs, Col., an aunt and uncle of the bride, were among the out-of-town guests.

The emblems of traditional luck in the bride's cake were cut, the needle by Miss Frances Terrell, the money by Mr. Calhoun Rieke and Miss Ethel Brooks, the button by Mr. Douglas Bagby, the ring by Miss Belle Cave. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Lillie May Winstead.

Mr. and Mrs. Province left at midnight for a bridal trip that will include Washington City and points east. The bride wore for her traveling costume a green cloth tailored suit, with a hat of contrast shades. They will be at home at 436 South Sixth street on their return. Their wedding gifts were most numerous and handsome.

State Machine Scored By Democrats

The present campaign is not merely a fight of the party and the public patronage in such a way as to defeat Blackburn. It remains to be seen whether the party machinery and the patronage trough can be employed to defeat the will of the people this fall.—Henderson Gleener.

What the Fight Is.
The present campaign is not merely a fight between the "ins" and "outs," as the machine organs would have the people believe, says the Mayfield Monitor.

It is a fight of the people to dislodge the Frankfort machine, a well-organized lot of politicians, banded together for the purpose of controlling all the offices of the state and filling their capacious pockets from the state treasury.

And it is a fight that is much greater import to the people than they can at present realize because machine politics in Kentucky, as applied to the state is comparatively a recent thing, and it is hard for the people to understand its many evils and the great danger attending its perpetuation.

Machineism represents all that is bad in politics. It is practical politics gone to seed. The greatest graft to the smallest number is the motto of the machine politician. Statesmanship and patriotism are completely eliminated from his creed. The people are all "dumb-driven cattle" to him, possessing neither private nor political rights which he is bound to respect, and beyond the means they afford for gratifying his greed for graft and lust for power excite no interest in his unconscionable soul.

The Frankfort machine is modern in every respect. The most up-to-date appliances for extracting money from the people's pockets and fooling them into the belief that they are being robbed for their own good are employed. Scientific experts, who know all the ins and outs of machine politics, are in charge and nothing that will bring shakels into the hands of the machine or increase its power for perpetuation is being neglected.

This is the machine which Beckham, Hager & Company built, and for which they are asking a new lease of life. It has already cost the state untold thousands in extravagance and misfeasance, and what it has cost is a mere bagatelle to what it will cost if continued in power.

This is the machine which Messrs.

S.S.S. MADE FROM ROOTS AND HERBS A SAFE AND RELIABLE BLOOD PURIFIER

In the time of our forefathers the forests and fields were the only laboratories from which they could procure their medicines. They searched out and compounded the different roots, herbs and barks into remedies, many of which have been handed down to succeeding generations, and continuously used with satisfactory results. Among the very best of these old time preparations is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely from roots, herbs and barks, in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers. This absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. makes it the one medicine that may be used without fear of harmful results in any way. Most blood medicines on the market contain mercury, potash, or some other strong mineral. These act with bad effect on the system, upsetting the stomach, interfering with the digestion, affecting the bowels, and when used for a prolonged period of time often cause salivation. No such effects ever result from the use of S. S. S., and it may be taken by children as safely as by older people. For Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Malaria, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, and all other troubles caused by impure or poisoned blood, S. S. S. is a perfect remedy. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities, humors or unhealthy matter, and makes the blood pure and rich. It eliminates every particle of the taint of inherited blood trouble, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, and establishes the foundation for good health. S. S. S. is Nature's Blood Purifier, and its many years of successful service, with a steadily increasing demand for it, is the best evidence of its value in all blood troubles. Book on the blood and any medical advice free of charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Beckham and Hager are expecting to put them in power and give one six and the other four years more at the public crib.

This is the machine which started out to build a state capitol for eight hundred thousand dollars and asked the legislature for two millions before the foundation was completed.

This is the machine that paid $60,000 for a $10,000 lot for a capitol site.

This is the machine that paid $40,000 for capitol plans when they were offered plans by a reputable architect for $16,000, and this same architect offered to give a bond to build the capitol for $825,000.

This is the machine that paid $24,000 for printing, when under their contract it should not have cost $1,000; and at another time gave away $12,000 or $13,000 in the same manner.

This is the same machine that paid $124,000 for extra attorneys' fees to their pets in three years.

This is the machine that lowered the rate of taxation 2 1/2 cents on the hundred and raised the value of property 25 per cent, making the tax much higher than before.

This is the machine that has taxed everything in sight and levied back taxes that it might have money to meet its wasteful and extravagant practices.

This is the machine that put the charitable institutions in the hands of Percy Haly, a Frankfort politician, who learned statesmanship in his father's saloon.

This is the machine under whose management brutalities have been practiced at the Lexington asylum that have resulted in the death of one patient and perhaps more.

This is the machine that comes up and whitewashes all such devilry, for fear it might hurt the administration and get some of its pets in prison.

This is the machine that makes all the attendants, clerks and guards at the charitable institutions contribute to the campaign expenses of the machine candidates, or lose their jobs.

This is the machine that uses the clerks in the auditor's office and all other state offices to send out campaign literature for Messrs. Beckham and Hager while they are being paid for their services by the state.

This is the machine that created new offices and increased the salaries of old ones to the extent of $50,000 per year.

This is the machine that killed senate bill No. 26, while was intended to pay parties who were summoned for jury service and not used for the loss of time, because it would leave about $10,000 a year in the people's pockets and thus deprive the machine of the use of this amount.

This is the machine that levied the tax of $1 on the poor man's dog that they might have more of the people's money to handle.

This is the machine that created the board of control that is now paying extravagant prices for supplies for the charitable institutions, thus enriching their friends at the expense of the state.

This is the machine that treated the office of fire commissioner for Mott Ayres at a salary of $3,500 per year, and the office of assistant fire commissioner to provide a soft place for Beckham Triplett, the governor's nephew, at about $2,000 per year; and the said Mott Ayres has moved his office from Frankfort to Louisville, where he is conducting Mr. Hager's campaign, while being paid by the state to do nothing.

This is the machine that doubled the number of guards at the prisons while the increase in prisoners was not over ten per cent.

This is the machine that provided fat offices for all the members of the last legislature who voted for their measures of graft and plunder.

This is the machine which gave the senator from Graves county a soft job as manager of the Confederate Soldiers' Home at Pewee Valley at a salary of $1,800 per year and living expenses for himself and family, because he betrayed his constituents and voted for a candidate for United States senator against Jo Blackburn.

This is the machine that pays the editor of the Lyon County Herald $75 per month to sit in an office at the Eddyville prison and edit two papers defending Messrs. Beckham and Hager in their extravagances and mismanagement of state affairs.

This is the machine that buys up papers that fought them in the campaign three years ago, and makes them present the sorry spectacle of having sold their birthright of honor and manhood for a mess of pottage.

This is the machine which Messrs. Beckham and Hager and Percy Haly and Mott Ayres and all the various sized satellites are asking the people to endorse.

And this is the machine which the people intend to snow under "deep and strong" at the primary next month.—Mayfield Monitor (Dem.)

Lower and lower the river continues to fall and each day some of the big river boats are forced to discontinue their regular trips. The latest to tie up and wait for a more favorable stage are the Joe Fowler and the John S. Hopkins, which discontinue their regular trips Monday and Tuesday.

The R. Dunbar and the H. W. Butterfield, both smaller and lighter boats, will go in the Evansville and Paducah trade in their places, but both are so small and slow that they will not be able to make a trip every day as has been the custom. The Dunbar, which should have been here yesterday, will get in late this evening. The Butterfield, which has been lying up here, left today for Evansville and the Dunbar will lie over until morning before starting on her return trip.

The stage this morning was 3.8, which is a fall of 0.2 since yesterday.

Five of the flotilla of towboats that left the latter part of last week for the Tennessee river for ties have returned and today are receiving supplies for a return voyage up the same stream. They are the Lyda, Blue Spot, Hosmer, American and Henrietta.

Capt. George Rush, the contractor, is in St. Louis on business. The J. B. Richardson left this morning for Cairo with the usual good trade that is carried in that line.

The Kentucky is due in from the Tennessee river tonight and will stay here until Saturday evening before getting away.

The steamer Joe Fowler is on the ways at Mount City, while the John S. Hopkins is being repaired at Evansville.

The Royal and Cowling made their regular trips from Golconda and Metropolis today.

The Bob Dudley is being repaired at the dry docks.

Two of the barges that were on the marine ways have been let off and the General Pierson, an Illinois Central transfer boat from Memphis, will soon be hauled out for extensive repairs.

Official Forecasts.
The Ohio from Evansville to Cairo will continue falling during the next three days.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, not much change during the next 36 hours.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will continue falling slowly during the next two days.

BRUTAL MURDER

A GERMAN GIRL CALMLY CONFESSES TO THE CRIME.

Killed Her Fiance for the Sake of His Wealth, But Forgery Finally Caught Her.

Berlin, Oct. 31.—Confession of a crime of the most brutal character has been callously made by Grete Beier, a good looking girl of 22, the daughter of the late mayor of Brand, in Saxony. For cool deliberation on the part of the perpetrator, who spared her victim with a joke, the story is one almost without parallel in the criminal annals.

On May 14 a chief engineer named Presser was found lying dead in the furnished room which he had rented in the great industrial center of Chemnitz. A bullet had passed through his head by way of the mouth, the revolver from which it had been fired was at his side, and appearances pointed to suicide. His landlady, however, insisted that the dead man had never possessed a firearm, but the police scoffed at her assertion and came to the conclusion that he had taken his own life.

There the matter was allowed to rest. It was remarked at the time, as an especially sad feature of the case, that Presser was shortly to have been married, and among his papers was found a will leaving his entire possessions to his fiancée.

She, however, soon consorted herself with another lover, a merchant named Merkel, living in Dresden. Subsequently her father died, and a few days ago she, her mother, and her new lover were all taken into custody on a charge of forging the will of a citizen of Freiberg. In connection with the accusation the house was searched, and a number of papers were discovered which suggested that the girl must have had a hand in the death of her former lover.

On being confronted with these evidences of her crime the girl confessed to it in the most heartless manner, telling the story as though it was a good joke. She said she had called upon Presser, and, with a great show of animation and high spirits, told him that she had just been to the fair and bought him a beautiful present. It was, however, to be a "surprise," so he must allow himself to be blindfolded. To this she good-naturedly submitted. Then she told him to open his mouth, and this he also did. The girl then whipped out a revolver, and, coolly placing the barrel between his teeth, blew out his brains. She had taken with her on her visit to the unfortunate man the will that was found leaving

DON'T SWALLOW DRUGS FOR SKIN AFFECTION.

Discovery Proved That Skin Disease Exists in the Skin Only—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

The old method of trying to cure skin diseases by treatment through the blood by way of the stomach has now been given up by all scientists. It has been proved that the only sure way to relieve and cure skin disease is by treating the disease where the disease is.

The remedy discovered and used by Dr. Decatur D. Dennis in his practice with such remarkable success in cases of Eczema, psoriasis, itching, and other such diseases, and which he finally gave to the world under the name of D. D. D. Prescription, is now effecting almost miraculous cures everywhere.

Thousands of people have written warm personal letters testifying to the wonderful results obtained by the use of this remedy, especially in connection with D. D. D. soap. One valuable feature is that it stops all itching and burning instantly, immediately relieving the patient of agony and suffering, while continued applications effect a positive cure.

Just read this: "Your D. D. D. Prescription is the best remedy I have ever used for Eczema. It does all you claim for it, and I can't help feeling grateful to you. My son suffered with ring worm and scald head for four months. His head was something awful. All his hair came out. Nothing would cure him. Then we bought D. D. D. Two bottles with your advice cured him and he has had no return. His hair came in thick and beautiful."

everything to her, and secreted it among his papers.

After the girl's amazing confession further investigations were made, with the result that she has been charged with a number of other crimes. It is alleged that she murdered several children and buried the bodies in her father's garden. She is suspected of a series of forgeries and has confessed to a charge of embezzling a friend's savings bank account of a large sum of money.

PERRYMAN

SHOT AND KILLED LAST NIGHT IN CAIRO SALOON.

Only One Eye Witness, Ran Away, But Is Expected to Appear Before Coroner.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 31.—John R. Ford shot and killed Jack Lewis about 10 o'clock last night in the saloon of Newton Riddle, at the southeasterly corner of Eighth street and Commercial avenue. Ford is proprietor of a saloon on Ohio street. Lewis was a skiff ferry man, running a boat regularly between Cairo and East Cairo, Ky. The shooting was done in the room at Riddle's, back of the bar. The only other living eye witness to the act, besides Ford himself, was a Kentuckian who was with Lewis, but who ran out of the place immediately after the shooting and crossed the river in the skiff. He could not be seen or heard from last night, nor could his name be learned; but he is known by sight and is expected to be here for the coroner's inquiry today.

Can You Stand for This, Mr. Voter? R. K. Smith, a leading member of the American Tobacco Trust, says: "It gave $15,000 to the Democratic campaign fund, and in return was given promises of protection."

In the face of this fact S. W. Hager, Democratic candidate for governor, professes to be the friend of the farmers of Kentucky.

Charles Dehler, of the beer trust, gave Mr. Hager personally $3,500 as a contribution to the campaign fund. This Mr. Hager has been forced to admit.

In the face of this fact S. W. Hager, Democratic candidate for governor, professes to be the friend of the farmer to people.

William Semons misappropriated $48,000 of the funds of Jefferson county under the eyes of State Auditor Hager, the peculations covering a long period. Mr. Hager sought to have Mr. Semons appointed county clerk after he had been ousted by the court of appeals, and before the clever bookkeeping in his department had revealed the fact of the shortage.

In the face of these facts S. W. Hager, state auditor and Democratic candidate for governor, has the effrontery to offer himself as a fit man for the highest office in Kentucky.

Revenge.

"Wasn't it embarrassing to stand up and recite that piece before the company, after overhearing that odious Miss Tartan say it always made her sick to hear you read?" asked the intimate friend.

"No, it was fun," answered the amateur eloquentist. "It was the keenest pleasure in the world to know I was making her sick."

COX CHOSEN

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE FOR REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE.

South Trimble's Record is Bad, But as for Governor You Take Your Pick.

Louisville, Oct. 31.—Charles L. Collins, superintendent of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, yesterday issued a statement which amounts to a practical endorsement of the Republican state ticket. The league unqualifiedly supports W. H. Cox, of Mason county, who is the Republican nominee for lieutenant governor, declaring that he has advocated and fought for temperance legislation throughout his career in the state legislature. On the other hand, it is pointed out that South Trimble's record has shown him to be unfavorable to the cause of temperance.

It is said to be a question of choice between men on the two tickets as far as the governorship is concerned, and on that basis the Republicans have nothing to fear.

Royal Girl Disappears.

London, Oct. 30.—Barbara Laponkhin, daughter of Alexander Laponkhin, ex-governor of Reval, and whose mother is a Russian princess, has mysteriously disappeared in London and all the resources of the Russian embassy and Scotland yard are being employed to trace her. Miss Barbara, who is 18 years old, was visiting in London with her younger sister in charge of an English governess, Miss Russell. The trio went to the Aldwych theater October 24, and on coming out Barbara became separated from her companions and has not since been seen.

The governess has received a note in a handwriting which she recognizes as Barbara's, saying she had been kidnapped and was now a prisoner in the cellar of a house in the north-west part of London. The girl added that she was wounded and suffering so severely that she intended to poison herself. Miss Russell suggests that revolutionists planned the kidnapping of Barbara in order to bring her father within their reach. He is now on his way to London.

The Russian officials think the girl was carried off for purposes of blackmail. The police are unable to imagine how a woman, 18 years old, could be carried off against her will in the crowded precincts of a theater.

Soft and Light.

Charles H. Wilson, the superintendent of Alfred G. Vanderbilt's remarkable stables, said at Newport of a groom he had discharged:

"The man was a bluff. He pretended to know all about horses, when in truth he could hardly tell a hackney from a cow. We soon got on to him. His case was like the fake blacksmith's."

"There was a chap who thought blacksmithing looked simple and easy, and so, being out of work, he decided to have a try at it. He went to a smith and asked for a job."

"Well," said the smith, "you are a strong, likely looking young fellow. What experience have you had?"

"Eleven years," was the prompt answer.

"All right. I'll try you," said the blacksmith. "Shut that mare while I go home to dinner."

"The smith on his return from dinner frowned and said to the new hand:

"What! Haven't you got that mare shod yet?"

"The bluffer bit his lip, flushed and replied:

"I can't get her confounded foot in the vice."

CITY SALARIES ARE TO BE RAISED

Ordinances Are Given First
Passage By Council

Will Meet Again Friday Night to Rush Them Through So Aldermen May Act at Once.

TRACTION LINE RIGHT OF WAY

Ordinances increasing salaries of city officials were given first passage by the board of councilmen, sitting in special session last night. The ordinances will be given second passage Friday night, when the board will meet in adjourned session. All ordinances were not completed and action had to be deferred on quite a number. Following are ordinances given first reading last night:

Ordinance raising patrolmen from $60 to $75 per month; city auditor from $1,200 to $1,800 per annum; mayor from $1,800 to $2,500 annually; city assessor, $900 to $1,000 per annum; city treasurer, $1,800 to $2,400; patrol wagon driver, $60 to $75 per month, and city detectives, $60 to $75 per month.

City patrolmen shall get $55 per month for first six months' service, $65 per month for the second six months and $75 per month after one year's service.

City firemen shall receive instead of $540 per annum, $600. The ordinance was not passed on last night because of a defect in figures.

Ordinances not prepared by the solicitor follow: City physician, new committee clerk, fire department, captain of police, lieutenant and sergeant of police and license inspector.

Second passage was given the ordinance granting a right of way to the Southern Electric company to enter Paducah.

DOG FANCIERS WILL HAVE SPORT

Wonderful Attraction For Sportsmen at La Center

Finest Bred Bird Dogs in the Country
Will Participate in the Field
Trials in Ballard.

A LOCAL ENTHUSIAST TALKS.

More than 400 dogs will be entered in the three bird trial events at La Center, beginning November 19, for purses aggregating over $2,000. Mr. W. W. Booker, Jr., of Louisville, secretary of the Kentucky Field Trial association, has returned to Louisville after a conference with Paducah sportsmen, and states that from indications the biggest field trials ever held in the state will be pulled off at La Center next month.

Mr. Booker is one of the best known bird dog experts in the state, and is now in Mississippi, looking after entries of bird dogs from that state. While in Paducah he gave an idea of how many dogs would be entered in the five days trials, and the number is astonishing.

There will be three events. They are the Derby for setter and pointer pups, whelped on or after January 1, 1906. Entries have closed for this event and there are 100 dogs entered. The purse is $300 with half of all entry or starting fees in excess of the purse added. Monies are divided as follows: Forty, thirty, twenty and ten per cent. With 100 dogs entered this will give a purse from fees far in excess of the regular purse. The nominating fee is $10 and a fee of $10 additional for starting.

Event No. 2 will be the star event of the meet. It is an "All Age Stake" with a purse of $600 guaranteed and dogs of all ages may be entered. For this event more than 75 dogs are entered, and by the time of the trials it is thought fully 200 starters will be ready to go.

The third stake is the "Membership Stake," and over 50 dogs are entered already.

An Important Event.

"The public doesn't know what an important event this is going to be," declared Mr. W. E. Cochran, who was one of the several instrumental in bringing to La Center the trials. "We will have dogs here from all over the United States, dogs such as have never been seen in Paducah before. Some single dogs will run into the thousands of dollars in valuation."

Mr. M. M. Bardwell, of McHenry, president of the Kentucky Field Trial association, already has his dogs at Kevel in training. Because dogs might become familiar with the ground and might disturb the birds, no dogs are permitted to train on the La Center grounds where the trials will be held.

Besides Mr. Bardwell's dogs, there are dogs from Illinois and Tennessee at Kevel in the hands of handlers who are training them hard.

On the return of Mr. Booker to Louisville, he will make out a program showing the full record of dogs, the names of handlers, breeders and owners. This is expected a few days before the trials begin.

School Notes.

Mrs. David Flournoy entertained the High School this morning with several vocal selections, and the entertainment was greatly appreciated. Miss Mabel Mitchell was out of school yesterday on account of illness, and Miss Louise Jones, of the cadet class, substituted. Miss Mitchell teaches the sixth grade at Washington school, and was back this morning.

Sails 1,750 Miles Rudersless.

Plymouth, Oct. 31.—The North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse arrived this morning. The vessel steamed 1,750 miles without a rudder at an average speed of 18.66 knots. The day after the breaking of the rudder the ship encountered a hurricane and had to oil the waves to lessen their violence. The passengers were not aware of the accident to the steering apparatus until 36 hours after. After the Kaiser Wilhelm had landed mails and passengers at Plymouth it proceeded for Cherbourg without assistance.
